

What Basin Residents Said

In 2011, Columbia Basin Trust, in partnership with the Columbia River Treaty Local Governments' Committee, hosted information sessions in 12 communities, plus three online sessions.

The goal was to build understanding and prepare residents for the provincial consultation on the future of the Columbia River Treaty (CRT). More than 1,400 Basin residents took part and shared their thoughts and questions about the CRT.

